

PricewaterhouseCoopers' Art Collection

Date/Time	Friday 4 October 2019 6.30-8.30pm	Price	£20
Venue	1 Embankment Place, London WC2N 6RH (Meet in foyer not before 6.10pm)	Leaders	PwC art advisers

This visit has been facilitated because of the kind permission of the PwC partnership. The evening will provide an introduction and tour of the art on display at Embankment Place providing an insight into artworks acquired since the 1980s from mainly British artists at varying stages in their careers who attended London art schools or have worked in the capital, including established painters Jason Brooks, Maggi Hambling and Patrick Hughes.

Embankment Place, designed by architect Terry Farrell and refurbished in 2014, stands on a bend in the Thames immediately above Charing Cross station, affording dramatic views towards Westminster and the ever-changing City skyline. The tours will be led by art advisors, Rachel Dickson and Emma Russell of Dickson Russell Art Management.
